Overbearing egos? We just overlook them anyhow When it all seems so surreal I can tell that you don't want to be here You want to be gone I want to stay You want to be gone now I want to Time goes when you dont want it to You said you could go with it I saw your golden eyes You wore my sweater You looked down I wanted to die You say I move too fast now I know how that feeling goes You say I move too slow to fuck it up I know how that feeling goes You tried to explain style height age difference 'Said I seemed so much better on a 7" record

Do you wanna fight with Calvin Krime You'll look real cool with a fist in your eye Do you wanna fight Do you want the Beat Step on up if you crave defeat You've got a pencil in my eye and a finger in the other eye You've got a rag shoved in my mouth and a nail for each eardrum The pulse of your blood flows slow smell taste and feel victory With this pain I take the chance of great acrobatics I wish so much to see your face and my hands around your neck I wish so much to hear your gasps Gasps of ghastly breath I wish so much to see your face of bulged eyes

Bing Bing

Lock down snap! Beep...Intermittent chime Seal the capsule and we're ready for space time Rounded grooves where heated arms feel the grasp Feel the belt grip reflexive to the crash Are you going down Take it to the middle It's too late Slip and slide we're going down Slip and slide we're going down Everybody taken without a say Crashing towards the asphalt waiting to be saved But no one will come when they're saving themselves I know the median Great wall of gray But no one is sure if you want to be saved

Fight Song (right)

Time blast equals when we found out you were the one who kicked my ass and broke my glasses in the old Fiasco schoolyard The fight all started when we argued over who had the better video games I got mad and made up insults I said you were an Arsenio Hall fan I didn't care that you were so much taller even though your crustache seared I had to stand up for my sixth grade morals No Sega game can step to Excitebike THEN YOU GOT MAD YOU HURT ME BAD I CAN FEEL YOU HURT ME BAD I felt my pretty right eye swell up to the size of a black&blue golfball My chubby little hand hit the concrete My friends say I had a seizure I got up and walked away I learned my lesson Never insult the crazy kid whose beed addicted to white glue sniffing
